'I will remember Massachusetts....'

Jamie and Franny recently set up camp in a Liverpool recording studio to record a version of the classic Bee-Gees song 'Massachusetts' for release later this year. The Gibb brothers themselves were said to have been mightily impressed at Jamies' vocal performance, so much so in fact that they have invited all the band down to watch them play when they perform at Wembley Stadium in September.

SPACE IN GERMANY

Hello people, Yorkie here. Earlier this year we did a short tour of Germany. We had just finished a large tour of the UK to promote 'Tin Planet' and it was a real buzz to get back to small, stripped down shows.

One highlight of the tour had to be the fairground in Bremen which we visited on our day off: everybody tried all the rides at least five times for twelve hours solid. (Hard work eh?) Seriously though, all of the gigs were quite special as they were mostly 200-400 capacity (we'd just been playing venues of 2000-3000 capacity in the UK) and so it was nice to get back to the hot and sweaty club scene which was where it all started for us in the first place.

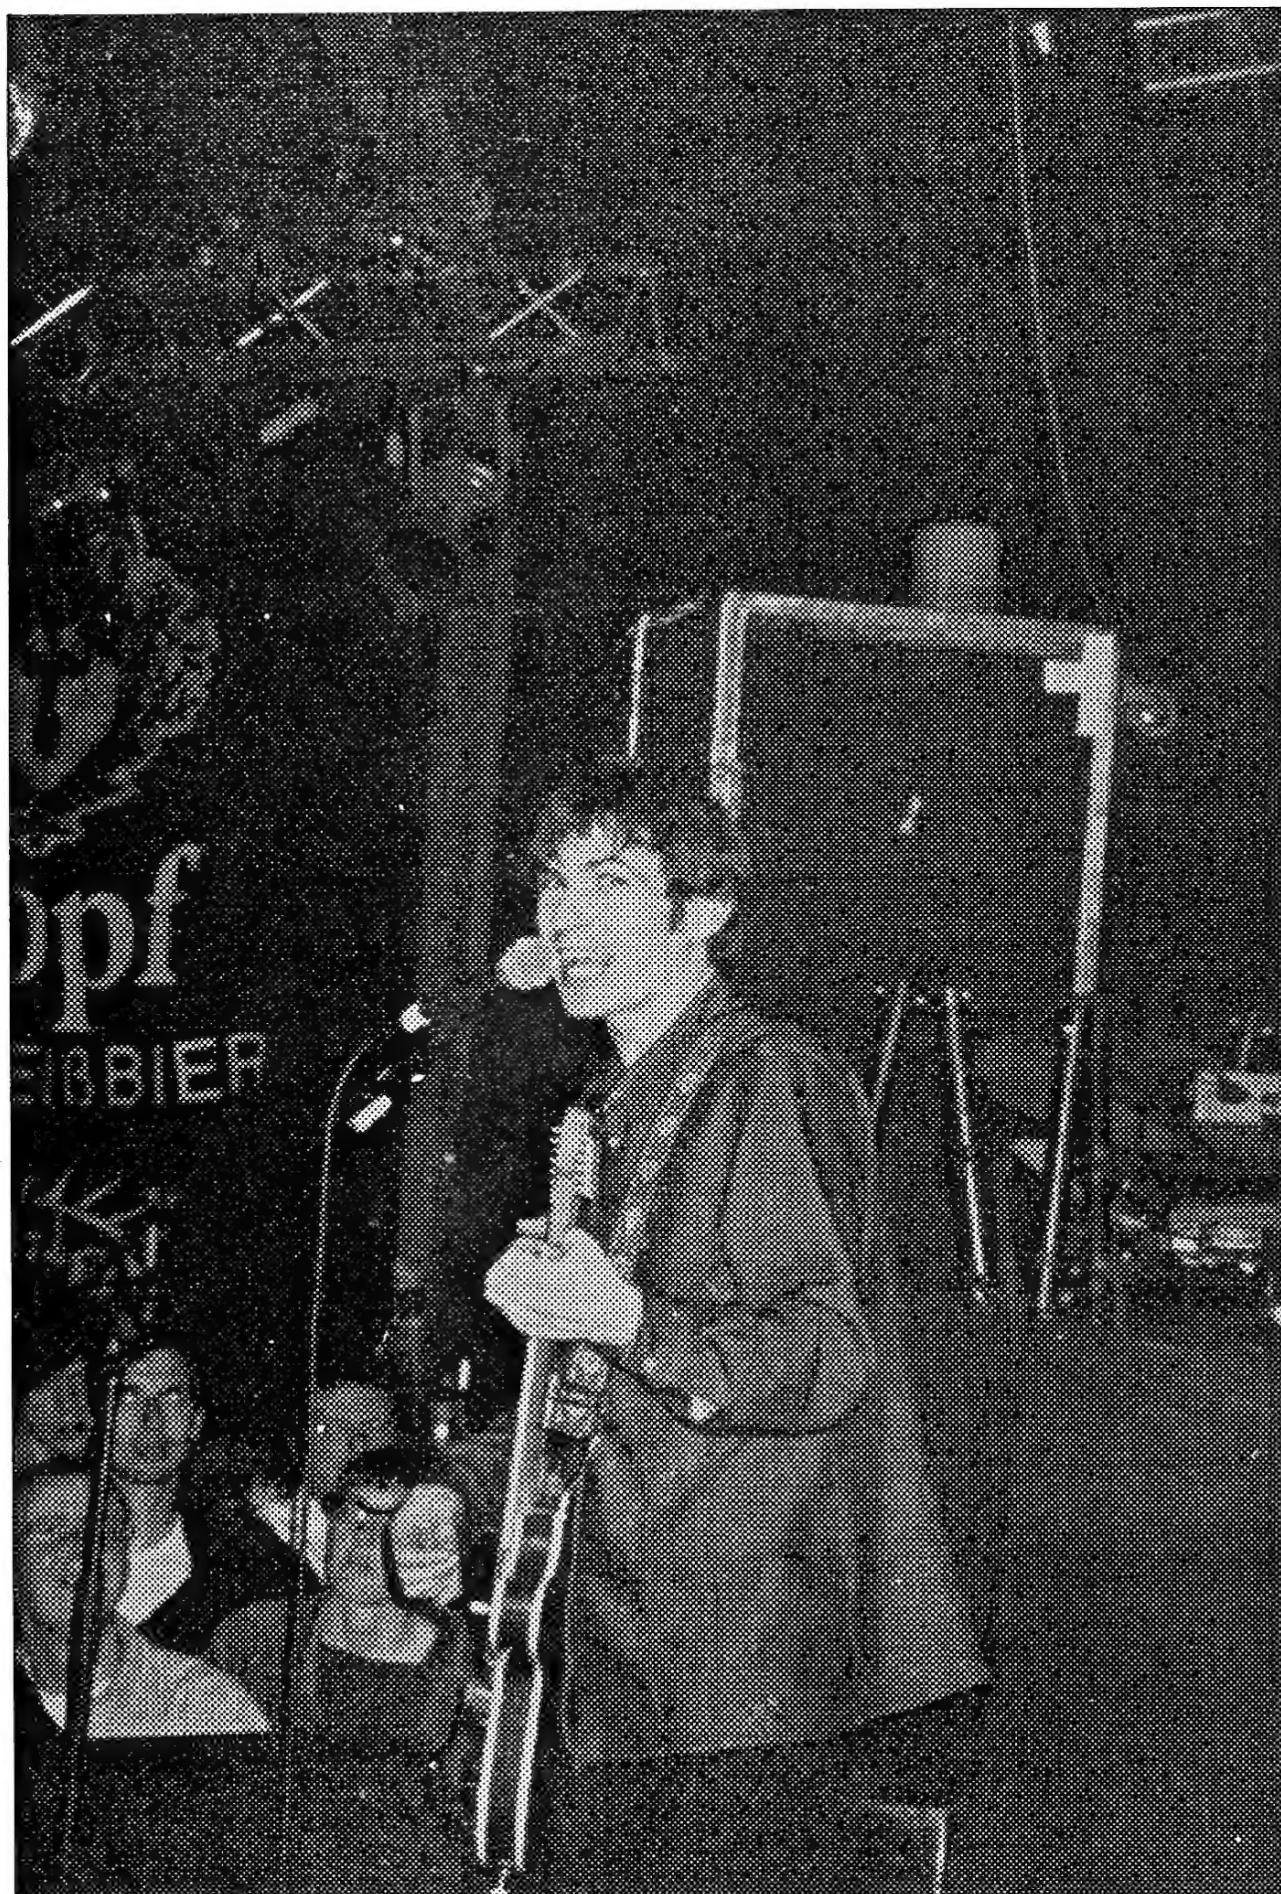

We played virtually the same set as we play in the UK, and we were surprised at the 100% positive reaction everywhere we played, Disco Dolly proved to be a particular favourite with the Germans as Tommy ad-libbed a German count of '1-2-3-4' at the end of the song.

One memorable venue was in Austria, a tiny club situated under a railway line. The stage was so tiny we had to build flight cases in front of it just to accommodate Franny's keyboards. There was also no room for our projection screens so our lighting man Towyn had to project the images onto the ceilings and the walls - Cool!

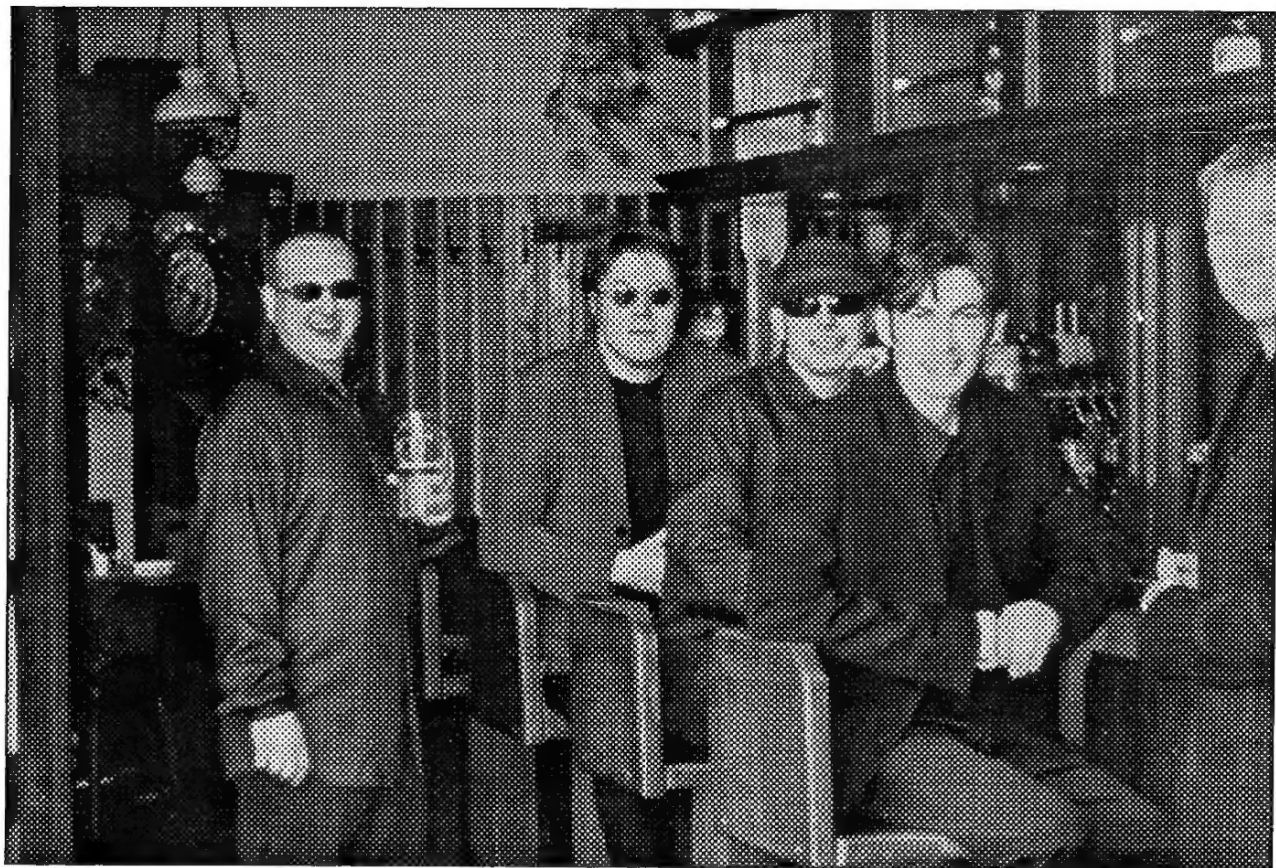

All in all we had a blast and we're looking forward to visiting again. Memorable places include Hamburg (Alive 24 hours a day) Cologne (The coolest band ever to come from there - Can) and Austria (Just a really beautiful place.)

The following photographs show some of the highlights of our trip - Enjoy!

SPACE PARTY

Earlier this year 'Tin Planet' was launched in style at a star-studded bash in a London night-club following Spaces' two headline shows at the London Forum. Zoe Ball, Rialto and Cornershop turned up to join in with the celebrations. Two large sleeper buses were hired by the bands' management to ferry their families to the party, and a great time was had by all. The following photos were taken in the midst of the madness and document Space at their most trashed!
